CHARLTON PLANNING TO COME BACK TO AMERICA

Como, Italy, Oct. 26.—With only 29 days more to serve for his wife's murder here in 1910, Porter Charlton was making his plans already today for his return to the U. S.

Besides being allowed all the time he has already served in prison from the term of six years and eight months, to which he was sentenced, the American was fortunate in getting the benefit of one year's deduction provided by act of parliament from all sentences passed for offenses committed before the war.

FOUR HELD IN PLOT AIMED AT GERMANY'S ENEMIES

New York, Oct. 26. — With four men already under arrest in widening plot to prevent ammunition from reaching Germany's enemies by blowing up trans-Atlantic vessels, police and secret service activity today centered on search for Max Breitung, a fifth member of alleged conspiracy.

Breitung, according to police, is a relative of Edward N. Breitung, millionaire shipping and mining magnate, whose purchase of the vessel Dacia and attempts to send cotton to Germany on her brought him frequently before public in early days of war.

Three men in Weehawken, N. J., jail—Robert Fay, whom police say is the brains of the plot; Walter Scholtz, his brother-in-law, and Paul Daeché—will be arraigned before Justice Rander today for pleas on conspiracy charges. Fourth, Dr. Herbert Kienzie, inventor and engineer, is held in Tombs in default of $25,000 bail.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Sharp representation, with demand for explanations, may be made to German government by U. S. at result of the bomb conspiracy unearthed at Weehawken, N. J., in arrest of Rob't Fay, supposed German army lieutenant, and his associates.

Source of Lieut. Fay's funds was question upon which hinged any action by U. S.

TO SEE IF THERE IS A "PULL"

The civil service commission has been ordered to report back to the council how many transportation inspectors are employed in the bureau of public service under 60-day appointment and the dates of their appointment.

Ald. Bergen, who introduced the order, said that a boy in his ward has been near the top of the eligible list for this position for some time and that several appointments have been made.
